Product Summary

Purely Medicinal's Cannabis Capsules are made with decarboxylated plant material and are standardized using extracted cannabis oil. They offer both CBD and THC Capsules in a variety of strengths. Production of cannabis capsules requires a minimum of 3 analytical tests to ensure consistent active content. Typically, cannabis capsules are used to maintain longer periods of active medication in the body; i.e. overnight use. Capsules should never be taken on an empty stomach

Product Description

All capsules are 100% vegan, both the inside material and outer cap.

Least Bioavailable and are slow release.

 Ideal for overnight use or when long plateau periods are desired. ***

CBD and THC caps can be hard on the stomach and digestive system, so it's recommended that caps be taken with food and a full glass of water to avoid constipation and / or stomach upset.

Capsules are available in: Halley's Comet 40mg (1:1), THC (20, 50, and 90mg), CBD (20mg and EPF-2.5)

EPF-2.5 (Enhanced Protein Formula with 2.5mg of CBD), which is made from hemp protein, is a daily supplement cap to be taken up to 3 times a day).

CBD caps have a hemp protein base with CBD extract added to it.

THC Caps are decarboxylated plant material with THC extract added to it.
